Supply Chain Management Certification Programs

We offer career Certification in Supply Chain Management, Procurement, Logistics, Warehousing, Inventory Management, and related skills, through online instructor-led and self-paced courses.

About BRASI

We are a consortium of business professionals and educators, specializing in Supply Chain Management, Logistics, and related disciplines. We are avid practitioners of the profession and passionate about sharing knowledge through our training courses.

Our Vision

Equal opportunity through education and training.

Our Mission

To offer high quality training for individuals and organizations in the field of supply chain and operations management, aiming at sustainable development.

BRASI opened its doors to individuals and businesses for training and development in 1981. Our core purpose is to help industry professionals and businesses to succeed in an ever-evolving competency in the jobs market. Our effective training methods and up-to-date knowledge aligned with the latest industry trends put our candidates in the lead.

Thousands of students have taken our courses and are contributing to the progressive of their respective organizations. Our global footprint continues to grow, now offering courses in the French language as we plan to expand to other international languages in the future.

BRASI's Management Committee is responsible for the overall performance and administration of the organization. Working in conjunction with the Managing Committee, BRASI's Program Advisory Council (PAC) is responsible for the overall performance of our training programs, including their maintenance and upgrade.

The PAC comprises representatives from our primary stakeholder groups such as employers, managers, consultants, academics, students and alumni. The PAC's role is pivotal in our Continuous Improvement (CI) progress. Some of the activities undertaken by PAC include:

- Conduct learning needs surveys on a regular basis.
- Suggest changes and updates to the curricula based on the survey/research.
- Conduct Form Performance Analysis to ensure that the assessments are aligned with the curricula and accurately measure the learning outcomes.
- Manage the continuous improvement process.

Our support staff runs an efficient and responsive delivery system, meeting the needs of our diverse learning community. You can see the evident result of their dedication to our cause by the excellent reviews we receive from our students and clients.

Our Certificate Programs

We offer self-paced and instructor-led courses for today's diverse learning environment.

CISCOM

Certified in Supply Chain & Operations Management. It is a comprehensive training program that combines supply chain management, operations management, and logistics management into a single, integrated course. CISCOM received accreditation from the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) in September 2017 for five years under the Standard ASTM E2659-15/Certificate ID # 1192. Subsequently, BRASI continues to follow the ASTM Standard through internal audit and compliance oversight by its Program Advisory Council (BRASI-PAC).

CSCF

Certified Supply Chain Functional Manager. Our CSCF course is revered for its supply chain management overview. If you are curious about supply chain management or if such management can enhance your business, you owe it to yourself to take this course which is inclusive of all the top processes and concepts.

CPCM

Certified Procurement & Contracts Manager. The CPCM course contains the core principles and practices in procurement, inventory management, contract management and vendor partnership.

CSTL

Certificate in Shipping, Transportation & Logistics. The CSTL training course provides the key knowledge and terminology about logistics – the front-end of business. The four modules of the course present the body of knowledge in a progressive manner, with the necessary details and notes.

CSCD

Certified Supply Chain Data Analyst. The CSCD course equips learners with essential skills in data cleansing, optimization, and data visualization to support data-driven decisions.

CIFA

Certificate in Finance & Accounting for Non-Financial Professionals. CIFA program covers the commonly used terms, concepts and formulas that are essential to a general understanding of finance and accounting principles.

Training Methodology

Our courses are offered in the following ways to suit individual learning needs:

1. Self-paced online
2. Instructor-led online
3. Hybrid online, combining the self-paced and instructor-led modes
4. Instructor-led onsite

Each learning method utilizes BRASI's online learning resources that include handbooks and video lessons as applicable, files containing examples and exercises, quizzes and the final test. Certificate is uploaded to the student's account upon meeting the success criteria. All BRASI certificates are issued by the Business Research and Service Institute, USA. Each certificate carries a unique identifier and is valid for life.

Microlearning Courses

Additionally, we support continuous learning through topic-focused Microlearning Courses, industry updates in our monthly newsletter, webinars, panel discussions, content on BRASI's LinkedIn page, and YouTube channel.

Networking

BRASI's newsletter and social media channels offer its students, alumni and professional colleagues a unique opportunity to share their experiences and contribute to development without borders. We believe in creating opportunity through education, and look forward to your continued participation.
